- 1. On 10 January military supplies stored within the city limits of Namning were moved to twelve newly-built warehouses at Chinniuch'iao (分 午 億), five li north of Nanning on the west side of the highway to Liuchou. The area within a radius of 1,000 to 2,000 meters is fortified with guard posts, machine-gun positions, and air defense dugouts.
- 2. The Supply and Service Command of the Kwangsi Military District has requisitioned twenty houses on the south bank of the river for military warehouses. They were formerly used as the Liuchou office of CNURA. These buildings are now surrounded by two heavy steel wire fences, and unauthorized persons are not permitted to enter. The supplies stored in the warehouses are chiefly transportation material, including 500 drums of gasoline, 1,000 tires, and motor vehicle parts.
- 3. Seventy military trucks loaded with wooden cases arrived at the Nanning bus terminal from Liuchou on 10 and 11 January. Upon arrival, notice was sent to nine Soviet advisers at the Chin Shan Hotel*; three of them, with interpreters, came to the bus terminal. After talking with the Communist soldiers who accompanied the shipment, they signed some papers. Thereupon, the trucks continued their journey toward Chinghsia
- h. The Kweilin Military Sub-District has repaired the air raid shelters at Ch'ihsingyen (L. E.). The shelters, which are capable of holding several thousand people, are now guarded by a platoon of Communist soldiers and local residents are not permitted to enter them. Electric lights and telephones are being installed.
- 5. Because of the difficulties in procuring supplies, the railroad between Laipin and Nanning will not be completed by the original deadline of 5 February 1951. By mid-January the roadbed had been completed, about 80 percent of the bridges finished, and workers were laying sleepers and rails. The engineering office for the construction of the line estimates that it will be ready for service about 1 April 1951.
